Dear Friends,

Welcome to the 3rd opus of "ANNECY LIVE SURGERY INTERNATIONAL SHOULDER ADVANCED COURSE". In 2005 we organized with the support of my partners Bruno Toussaint & Jérôme Bahurel the first all live surgery meeting based on 29 live surgeries performed by an internal faculty of 25 best shoulder experts, interactive discussion with all the faculty at the end of the day but no lecture. Your questions on surgical techniques and the rationale for the surgery are answered during the surgery by the surgeons and the moderators who are part of the faculty. This unique concept of exclusive live surgery brought the name of the "Woodstock of the Shoulder". Surgeons came from all over the world to attend. Due to the success of this event, we organized in 2007 a second opus with 33 live surgeries, surgeons coming from 47 countries of the 5 continents. Each day was dedicated to the pathology: instability, cuff arthroplasty and Latissimus Dorsi transfer. 2009 will be organized in a different way: of course we will keep the concept of exclusive live surgery but the plan will be based on anatomy and not pathology...

If we face the glenoid and divide it by 3 lines originating in the centre and directed to the base of the coracoids, the inferior borders of the subscapularis and teres minor respectively we describe together with the central axis going through the glenoid centre 3 planes which define 3 distinct anatomical areas: the anterior, the postero-superior and the inferior area. The three planes separate the 3 Areas within the three-dimensional shoulder. The plane through the coracoid base separates the Anterior from the Postero-Superior area, the plane through the inferior border of the subscapularis separates the anterior from the inferior area and the plane through the inferior border of the teres minor separates the postero-superior area from the Inferior area. Area by area, we will follow the anatomy in a simple way, as it is seen during arthroscopy.

We will perform surgical procedures to deal with a selection of different pathologies according to the shoulder area:

- Day 1 (Thursday 4th) will be dedicated to the Anterior Shoulder Arthroscopic Surgery: Anterior labrum, Subscapularis repair, bone block and Latarjet procedures.

- Day 2 (Friday 5th) is about Arthroscopic Postero-Superior shoulder: SLAP, Posterior Labrum reattachment and bone block, Supra & Infraspinatus repair, Supra Scapular Nerve access and AC joint stabilisation.

- Day 3 (Saturday 6th) will be the Arthroplasty day.

- Day 4 (Sunday 7th) will be about the Inferior Shoulder: Axillary Nerve release and Latissimus Dorsi transfer.

During the first three days of the meeting the morning has 5 to 7 surgical procedures followed by a friendly lunch. In the afternoon the SPONSORS organize workshops to cover additional pearls and pitfalls of the surgical techniques and the design rationale of their products. On Sunday, the meeting will end after lunch. Two hours are free for you to enjoy the wonderful lakeside city of Annecy during the first two days of the meeting. At the end of the afternoon of each day there are an additional 3 live surgeries. The conclusion of the day is managed by a panel discussion involving the entire faculty about the surgeries, driven by your questions sent to the chairmen. The aim of the meeting is to show through 33 Live Surgeries the most update techniques, to learn how to face the different situations and difficulties managed by the best world-wide experts moderated by each other. This is the real transparent state of the art of the shoulder surgery.

We will be happy to welcome you in Annecy to the 3rd opus of the Woodstock of the shoulder Surgery!

Amitiés
